DIRECT TAXATION

An analysis of the tables contained in this report shows that for the last tax year, 1923, a direct tax was levied by the State, County, School Districts and Municipalities aggregating $45,299,761.

Out of each $100.00 levied:

|---|---|
| $ 6.52 | was levied by the State |
| 32.15 | was levied by County Courts |
| 49.39 | was levied by Boards of Education |
| 11.94 | was levied by Municipalities |
| $100.00 | |

Out of each $100.00 levied:

|---|---|
| $ 2.45 | was used by the State for general purposes |
| 2.21 | was returned by the State as aid to local schools |
| 1.86 | was used by the State for Virginia Debt purposes |
| 14.07 | was used by County Courts for road purposes |
| 6.42 | was used by County Courts for road bonded debt |
| .29 | was used by County Courts for other bonded debt |
| 11.37 | was used by County Courts for other county purposes |
| 3.14 | was used by Boards of Education for bonded debt |
| 46.25 | was used by Boards of Education for other school purposes |
| 2.47 | was used by Municipalities for bonded debt |
| 9.47 | was used by Municipalities for other municipal purposes |
| $100.00 | |

Out of each $100.00 levied:

$ 14.18 was used by all levying bodies for bonded debt

An analysis also shows that taxes for the year 1923 as compared with the year 1922 increased $4,550,615. The increase is distributed as follows:

$1,351,446 levied by County Courts
2,833,429 levied by Boards of Education
550,819 levied by Municipalities

$4,735,694 Total Increase
185,079 Decrease in Levies by State

$4,550,615 Net Increase by all Levying Bodies.

The following tables show that direct taxes increased in five years, 1913 to 1918, $8,576,699. 3% of this increase was due to levies by the State; 48½%, levies by the County Courts; 38½%, levies by Boards of Education, and 10%, levies by Municipalities.

Taxes increased in five years, 1918 to 1923, $24,694,311. 4½% of this increase was due to levies by the State other than for Virginia Debt; 3½%, levies by the State for Virginia Debt; 24%, levies by County Courts; 56½%, levies by Boards of Education, and 11½%, levies by Municipalities.

Taxes increased in ten years, 1913 to 1923, $33,271,010. 4% of this increase was due to levies by the State other than Virginia Debt; 2½% by the State for Virginia Debt; 30½% by County Courts; 52% by Boards of Education, and 11% by Municipalities.

These tables also show that taxes increased 71% in five years, 1913 to 1918, while the valuation increased during the same period only 17%. Taxes increased 120% for the five years, 1918 to 1923, while the valuation increased only 46%. Taxes increased 276% for the ten years 1913 to 1923, while the valuation increased only 70%.

Although direct taxes assessed by all levying bodies have increased $24,694,311 in the last five years from 1918 to 1923, the amount of direct taxes assessed by the State for general purposes has increased only $390,103. In 1918 the State assessed for general purposes $1,014,597, of which amount $294,870 was returned to the local schools as state aid, leaving an amount to be used for state purposes of $719,727. In 1923 the State assessed for general purposes $2,109,830, of which amount $1,000,000 was returned to the local Boards of Education as state aid, leaving an amount to be used for state purposes of $1,109,830. Hence the increase in five years for the amount used for general state purposes is only $390,103.

The aggregate assessed valuation of all property including real estate, personal and public utility for the years 1913, 1918 and 1923, are as follows:

|---|---|
| 1913 | $1,243,315,543 |
| 1918 | 1,449,451,754 |
| 1923 | 2,109,813,186 |

The aggregate amount of direct taxes levied by the State, County Courts, Boards of Education and Municipalities for the years 1913, 1918 and 1923, were:

| Taxes Levied By | 1913 | 1918 | 1923 |
|---|---|---|---|
| State—General | $ 745,964 | $ 1,014,597 | $ 2,109,830 |
| Virginia Debt | ..... | ..... | 843,913 |
| County Courts | 4,462,448 | 8,613,066 | 14,564,584 |
| Boards of Education | 5,116,261 | 8,397,557 | 22,373,754 |
| Municipalities | 1,704,078 | 2,580,230 | 5,407,680 |
| Totals | $12,028,751 | $20,605,450 | $45,299,761 |

The five year increase in taxes, 1913 to 1918, is as follows:

| Taxes Levied By | Amount | Percent Whole Increase |
|---|---|---|
| State | $ 268,633 | 3 % |
| County Courts | 4,150,618 | 48½% |
| Boards of Education | 3,281,296 | 38½% |
| Municipalities | 876,152 | 10 % |
| Totals | $ 8,576,699 | 100 % |

The five year increase in taxes, 1918 to 1923, is as follows:

| Taxes Levied By | Amount | Percent Whole Increase |
|---|---|---|
| State—General | $ 1,095,233 | 4½% |
| Virginia Debt | 843,913 | 3½% |
| County Courts | 5,951,518 | 24 % |
| Boards of Education | 13,976,197 | 56½% |
| Municipalities | 2,827,450 | 11½% |
| Totals | $24,694,311 | 100 % |

The ten year increase in taxes, 1913 to 1923, is as follows:

| Taxes Levied By | Amount | Percent Whole Increase |
|---|---|---|
| State—General | $ 1,363,866 | 4 % |
| Virginia Debt | 843,913 | 2½% |
| County Courts | 10,102,136 | 30½% |
| Boards of Education | 17,257,493 | 52 % |
| Municipalities | 3,703,602 | 11 % |
| Totals | $33,271,010 | 100 % |

A comparison of the increase in assessed valuation with the increase in amount of taxes assessed for the five year periods from 1913 to 1918 and 1918 to 1923, and for the ten year period from 1913 to 1923, is as follows:

| | Amount of Increase in Valuation | Percent Increase in Valuation | Amount of Increase in Taxes | Percent Increase in Taxes |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1913 to 1918 | $ 206,136,211 | 17% | $ 8,576,699 | 71% |

GROSS SALES TAX

Prior to 1914 West Virginia derived its revenue for State purposes from three principal sources: (1) From a small direct levy ranging from one to six cents on each one hundred dollars assessed valuation in the State; (2) By a charter or license tax on corporations to engage in business in a corporate capacity, and (3) From liquor and other licenses.

The 1913 legislature, anticipating a loss of revenue from liquor licenses (the State went into the dry column in 1914), gave considerable attention to two revenue bills, one of which had for its object the imposition of a production tax on oil and gas equivalent to two cents per barrel of oil and one-half of a cent per thousand cubic feet of gas; the other, a transportation tax of two cents per barrel of oil and three-eighths of a cent per thousand cubic feet of gas, the latter bill carrying an exemption of oil and gas transported in lines under twenty miles in length; but neither bill passed.

The 1915 legislature imposed a tax on corporations, associations and insurance companies for the privilege of carrying on or doing business in West Virginia equivalent to one-half of one per cent on the net income derived from business transacted and capital invested in the State. This rate later was increased to three-fourths of one per cent. The revenue derived from this fluctuated, the State receiving in 1916, in round numbers, $322,000; in 1917, $500,000; in 1918, $1,300,000; in 1919, $700,000; in 1920, $600,000; and in 1921, $1,400,000.

The 1919 legislature, being required to provide more revenue, passed an act which imposed a privilege tax on pipe lines equivalent to two cents per barrel of oil and one-third of a cent per thousand cubic feet of gas, transported into or through the State, regardless of origin or destination. This law was expected to yield around $1,500,000, but no amount has been realized therefrom. The United States Supreme Court, in the latter part of 1921, held this law unconstitutional because of the burdening of interstate commerce.

The 1921 session of the legislature, anticipating the failure of the 1919 pipe line privilege tax and recognizing that the revenue derived from the 1915 tax based on corporate net income was insufficient and too fluctuating, and endeavoring to meet the objection advanced by some against the "Excise Tax"—that corporations were required to pay a tax for the privilege of carrying on or doing business in West Virginia while persons, firms and companies, unincorporated, were not—repealed both the 1915 and 1919 laws, the repeal effective July 1, 1921, substituting therefor the

GROSS SALES TAX LAW

in effect July 1, 1921. This law is designed to reach every person, firm, co-partnership, association and corporation engaged in business, for profit, in the State of West Virginia and doing over $10,000 business in the State, as expressed by their sales.

It also requires a tax from those engaged in the practicing of professions in West Virginia on the excess of their annual gross income above $10,000.

The tax is levied for the privilege of engaging in any business or professional activity in this State. Business activities are classed as follows, each class being entitled to a specific deduction of $10,000 from sales proceeds before the computation of tax:

(1) The Mining and Production in West Virginia of Coal, Oil, Gas and Other Minerals; the tax is measured by the value of the articles mined or produced as shown by the gross proceeds derived from the sale thereof by the producer; the rate, two-fifths of one per cent, applying against the value of the entire production in West Virginia, regardless of the place of sale or the fact that deliveries are made to points outside the State.

(2) Manufacturing in West Virginia; the tax is measured by the value of the articles manufactured, compounded or prepared for sale in West Virginia as shown by gross proceeds derived from the sale thereof by the manufacturer or person manufacturing, compounding or preparing the same; the rate, one-fifth of one per cent, applying against the value of the entire production in West Virginia, regardless of the place of sale or the fact that deliveries are made to points outside the State.

(3) Selling Tangible Property, other than at wholesale; the rate, one-fifth of one per cent, applying against the gross proceeds of such sales, "gross proceeds," without any deduction for cost of carrying on the business, or without any deduction for losses or operating or other expenses. Shipments for continuous transportation and delivery outside the State are excluded.

(4) Selling Tangible Property at Wholesale in the State of West Virginia; the rate, one-third of one per cent, applying against the excess of the gross proceeds from sales over and above the purchase price paid—the gross difference between the cost and selling price of the articles or merchandise sold, without any deduction for cost of carrying on the business, or without any deduction for losses or operating or other expenses. Shipments for continuous transportation and delivery outside the State are excluded.

(5) Banks and Public Utilities; the rate, one-fifth of one per cent, applying against the entire gross income of banks in West Virginia, and one-fifth of one per cent on the intrastate gross income of public utilities—"gross income" including all income from discounts, interest, exchange and sales of services of every character, rentals, dividends and all other receipts derived from the operation of the business of the company, without any deductions for losses of operating or other expenses.

(6) All Other Businesses in West Virginia and Professions in West Virginia; the tax of one-fifth of one per cent, applying against the gross income derived from such businesses or professions, including all of the income and receipts without any deductions for losses or for the expenses of carrying on or conducting the business or practicing the profession.

The administration of the Gross Sales Tax law is vested in the State tax commissioner. The commissioner is required to furnish all blanks, receive all returns and make the assessments and collections.

Insurance companies which pay to the State of West Virginia a tax of two percentum upon premiums levied under the provisions of chapter 77 of the acts of 1907; mutual savings banks not having a capital stock represented by shares, and which are operated exclusively for the benefit of their depositors; labor, agricultural and horticultural societies and organizations not operated for profit, and certain other companies and associations and fraternal benefit societies are exempt from the provisions of the law. (See Section 4.)

If the total tax for which any person is liable under the act does not exceed the sum of $100.00 annually, only one return a year is required, that to be filed within thirty days from the end of the taxpayer's accounting year. If the amount of the annual tax exceeds $100.00, then returns are required to be filed quarterly for three quarters and the fourth quarter to be covered by an annual return of actual figures.

The following remarks by my predecessor, Hon. W. S. Hallanan, contained in a supplementary report to the Governor under date of January 22, 1923, are of sufficient interest, in my opinion, to warrant their reprinting here:

Exemption of Agricultural Pursuits

It is my judgment, and I therefore suggest, that the gross sales tax act be so amended as to contain a proviso to the effect that all persons following the pursuits of farming, cattle raising, agriculture and horticulture should not be deemed to be engaged in business within the meaning of the act. Reference to the table herein attached, showing the collections made from various business activities, will reflect the fact that the present $10,000 exemption has operated to exempt agricultural activities almost wholly. The effect of such a proviso would be to make the exemption of this class of occupations specific in language; and I am of the opinion that such an exemption can be made under the constitution, since the tax here involved is a privilege or excise tax.

As I understand the law, the legislature has a great deal of latitude in the selection and classification of business and occupations for the purpose of levying privilege taxes. I believe it sound public policy to exempt from the payment of the privilege tax persons engaged in agricultural pursuits. The right to the cultivation and use of the soil for farming purposes has never been regarded in this country as a privilege upon which an excise tax can be imposed, and I do not believe that we should depart from our past policy in this respect. Many substantial reasons can be assigned in support of this policy of exemption of agricultural pursuits from the imposition of an excise tax. * * *

Equalization of Rates

The legislature of 1921 did fairly well in the matter of equalization, in my opinion, in fixing the rates which each class of business should pay, when it is considered that only meagre information was at hand. In the light of the first year's experience in administering the sales tax law, I am convinced, however, that some classes are not paying their fair share for reasons which will be more fully explained hereinafter.

I find it not an easy matter to arrive at figures which would properly equalize the tax burden as between the several classes of taxpayers. It has occurred to me that equalization in the rates of the sales tax might be approached by a careful consideration of returns filed under the corporate net income tax law. It is generally admitted, I believe, that the corporate net income tax was fair as between all classes of corporations. So I have used 1,413 returns filed by corporations under the old excise tax law covering the years 1919 and 1920 upon which to base the figures herein set forth.

The year 1919, as to excise tax on net income, might be considered as being fairly normal while for the year 1920 the excise tax collections from coal, oil and gas companies were unusually large and the net income of manufacturers was considerably above normal. It will be recalled that the peak of post-war prices was reached in 1920. It is not likely that they will soon be lowered to the prices prevailing prior to that year.

Taking 1,413 returns filed under the law which imposed a tax on corporate net income (311 those of producers, 309 manufacturers, 309 sellers except at wholesale, 132 sellers at wholesale, 117 banks and public utilities and 235 other businesses, and professions) covering their 1919 and 1920 business and, for the sake of comparison, assuming that the excise tax law and the sales tax law were both in operation and affecting 1919 and 1920 business, I find the following comparison for the year 1919:

| Class | No. of Companies Used in Making Calculations | Gross Sales Tax | Excise Tax on Net Income | Increase of Sales Tax over Excise Tax |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Production | 111 | $402,116.00 | $121,062.00 | 232% |
| Manufacture | 109 | 216,966.00 | 73,322.00 | 196% |
| Sales except at wholesale | 109 | 47,514.00 | 14,465.00 | 228% |
| Sales at wholesale | 32 | 18,274.00 | 8,727.00 | 109% |
| Banks and Public Utilities | 17 | 53,412.00 | 22,341.00 | 139% |
| Other businesses and professions | 35 | 10,843.00 | 6,920.00 | 57% |

And I find the following comparison for the year 1920:

| Class | No. of Companies Used in Making Calculations | Gross Sales Tax | Excise Tax on Net Income | Increase of Sales Tax over Excise Tax |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Production | 200 | $1,059,390.00 | $540,658.00 | 96% |
| Manufacture | 200 | 403,354.00 | 190,574.00 | 112% |
| Sales except at wholesale | 200 | 117,418.00 | 25,778.00 | 278% |
| Sales at wholesale | 100 | 36,796.00 | 22,338.00 | 65% |
| Banks and Public Utilities | 100 | 88,192.00 | 70,586.00 | 25% |
| Other businesses and professions | 200 | 41,879.00 | 29,365.00 | 43% |

Striking an average by throwing all the figures as to sales tax and excise tax for the years 1919 and 1920 together, the following increase of sales tax over excise tax on the basis of the 1,413 returns would be found:

| Class | No. of Companies Used in Making Calculations | Gross Sales Tax | Excise Tax on Net Income | Increase of Sales Tax over Excise Tax |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Production | 311 | $1,461,506.00 | $661,720.00 | 121% |
| Manufacture | 309 | 620,320.00 | 263,896.00 | 135% |
| Sales except at wholesale | 309 | 164,932.00 | 40,243.00 | 260% |
| Sales at wholesale | 132 | 55,070.00 | 31,065.00 | 77% |
| Banks and Public Utilities | 117 | 141,604.00 | 92,927.00 | 52% |
| Other businesses and professions | 235 | 52,722.00 | 36,285.00 | 45% |

Sales of Real Estate

After a year's experience in the administration of the sales tax law, the different privilege taxes levied thereunder, in so far as they relate to persons engaged in business, have been found to operate smoothly, and it has been my purpose in administering the law to so interpret it as to render its operation as uniform and as equitable as is found consistent with the terms and the rates of levy provided by the act.

There is, however, a large class of taxpayers whom it is exceedingly difficult to reach—persons liable under section 2-b of the law for the privilege of selling tangible property, real or personal—who are not engaged in the business of selling, and who exercise the taxable privilege of selling for the most part for the purpose of disposing of real estate holdings, such as lands obtained by inheritance or otherwise, houses and lots and homes. The only method by which it is possible for this department to obtain any information with reference to these casual sales is by referring to the deeds recorded in the several counties of the State. For this purpose members of the clerical force and field agents were sent to the several county seats of the State to obtain complete reports of all deeds recorded during the tax year, showing dates of sales of real estate occurring after the law took effect. The amount of the consideration shown by the deeds was noted, and after obtaining an alphabetical classification of all names, so that a close estimate could be made of the total sales made by each individual or group of individuals, blanks and instructions were sent out to all prospective taxpayers. It was found from the lists obtained that a comparatively small proportion of the sales of real estate made by taxpayers exceeded the exempted amount of $10,000. In the small counties for instance, after going to the expense of sending an agent to make the required list of deeds, possibly only one or two sales were found to have been made in excess of the $10,000 exemption. In the larger counties, such as Kanawha, where transactions in real estate are numerous, it is surprising to note how great a proportion of the sales are made by comparatively few individuals or companies. All of which means that the preliminary work necessary to start the collection of this tax involves an expenditure that is quite out of proportion to the results obtained therefrom.

* * * * * * * * *

Whether any tax should be collected on account of casual sales of real estate is a matter open to debate and due consideration must be given the question of whether or not those making casual sales may be exempted without impairing the validity of the law. Personally, I am of the opinion that the tax should be imposed only on those engaged in the real estate business and that the making of incidental sales of real estate should not be considered as such a privilege as the State would tax. If the Legislature is of the opinion that the tax on casual sales should be continued, however, it should provide a simpler method for the collection thereof, and I have in mind in this respect the Federal law which imposes a stamp tax on conveyances which exempts transfers of less than $100 and requires stamps in the amount of fifty cents to be attached to deeds, documents and writings where the consideration is $100 and does not exceed $500, and fifty cents for each additional $500.

NOTE—In considering the above table, it should be kept in mind that the tax commissioner's records are arranged so as to show the taxpayer in the county in which are kept his books of account; so that the figures for Barbour County, for instance, for production, $9,134.89, do not necessarily mean that that amount was based upon the value of the production in Barbour County. If operations were carried on in that county by persons and companies whose principal offices were in Fairmont, say, the table would not show the full amount of tax which should be credited to Barbour County, and would show for Marion County more than its proper share. This applies almost exclusively to production and public utilities, the head offices of those engaged in such activities being usually located in some nearby center, not necessarily in the same county as the operations.

The other columns showing the distribution of taxes received from manufacturers, sellers of property and other businesses and professions substantially reflect the business in the respective counties.

*The amounts shown in this line are those paid by taxpayers whose principal offices are located in other states.

GASOLINE TAX

The Gasoline Tax Law was passed April 27, 1923, and became effective ninety days from passage,—July 26, 1923. A tax of two cents on each gallon of gasoline sold in this State is imposed, the tax to apply on each gallon but once. Gasoline purchased or obtained outside West Virginia and used within the State is also made subject to the tax. The purchaser is held liable for the tax on all interstate shipments of gasoline from points outside West Virginia to points within the State, but the seller is privileged to assume and pay the tax on such shipments. Refiners are required to pay the tax on all sales made to retail dealers and to consumers, but are authorized by the Tax Commissioner's rulings to sell gasoline to wholesale dealers and jobbers, the tax to be assumed and paid by the purchaser. Dealers are not required to pay the tax on gasoline used in their own motor equipment in the conduct of their business (the subject of tax being the privilege to sell), and, where wholesale dealers and jobbers handle gasoline on which the tax has been previously paid, such dealers are allowed refunds to cover the tax paid on gasoline used and gasoline lost by leakage and evaporation. Refunds are also allowed to wholesalers to cover the tax previously paid on gasoline sold and delivered or sold and shipped outside this State.

The tax applies on all gasoline sold in West Virginia regardless of the purpose for which same is to be used. No deductions are allowed on account of gasoline sold to be used in the operation of motor boats, agricultural tractors, stationary gasoline engines, gasoline used in the process of manufacturing or dry cleaning, or in air compressors, etc.; and no deductions are allowed on account of gasoline sold to the Federal Government.

All taxes collected under the provisions of this law are required to be paid into the State Treasury and may be used only for the purpose of the reconstruction, maintenance, and repair of roads and highways, and for the payment of the interest on State bonds issued for road purposes.

Total collections under the Gasoline Tax Law to date, accruing for the State's fiscal year ended June 30, 1924, amount to $1,037,393.54. It is estimated that there is an additional tax of $10,000.00 accrued for the year 1924 uncollected at this time.

As the law became effective on sales made on and after July 26, 1923, the above figures are accruals for a period of eleven months and six days only. Based on the above figures, it is estimated that the tax for the full year would have been approximately $1,150,000.00.

The collections by months are as follows:

|---|---|
| Accrued for the period from July 26, 1923, to July 31, 1923 | $ 18,763.13 |
| Accrued for the month of August | 114,852.36 |
| Accrued for the month of September | 120,058.13 |
| Accrued for the month of October | 118,837.63 |
| Accrued for the month of November | 89,491.94 |
| Accrued for the month of December | 76,754.29 |
| Accrued for the month of January | 61,919.31 |
| Accrued for the month of February | 48,345.69 |
| Accrued for the month of March | 63,167.62 |
| Accrued for the month of April | 93,954.80 |
| Accrued for the month of May | 105,322.01 |
| Accrued for the month of June | 125,926.63 |
| Total | $1,037,393.54 |

With the resumption of better trade conditions in the coal fields, the completion of additional hard roads, and the increase in the number of motor vehicles operated in the State, the revenue from this source for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, will probably exceed $1,200,000.00.
